OUSP QUARTERLY DINNER

Guest speaker : Monsieur Thierry Breton

WEDNESDAY JUNE 9th

8 pm for 8.30 pm

at UNESCO - 7 Place de Fontenoy - Paris VIIè

For the first time in our history, a Minister of the French Republic and an expert in the field has accepted to address us on the much debated subject of “An End to the World Crisis ?”

Mr Breton is a man of many talents, a respected political figure for 3 decades in French regional and national political life having served as Finance Minister between 2005 and 2007.

Our distinguished guest is a Grande Ecole alumnus having graduated from “Supelec” and hence completed an impressive international career ranging from launching the “high tech” Poitiers Futuroscope Exhibition and Park Centre, being appointed to the board of several multinational Industrial and Banking groups as well as successively becoming C.E.O. of such major companies as Thomson Multimedia, France Telecom and since 2008 Atos Origin.

Thierry Breton was voted businessman of the year 2004.

Not least, he also is a well known prolific writer with a keen interest in the Sciences as well as political and economic matters, seeking to devise future prospectives.

It should also be mentioned that, all along, Mr Breton has managed with his time to pursue an academic career across the Atlantic being senior lecturer at the Harvard Business School.

Clearly a multiple prime mover, probably all music to curious multi-faceted Oxonian ears.

The venue will be the panoramic top floor restaurant of UNESCO where chef Jean-Michel Defer has prepared for us the usual champagne & canapes predinner cocktail as well as a new brilliant gastronomic 4 course menu featuring seafood casserole au beurre blanc and Beef Wellington (vegetarian cuisine available upon prior written request) together with selected vintage Burgundy White and Claret.

Cost is Euros 60 P/P - Tenue de ville
